PCLender Named to HousingWire Tech100

LOS provider is recognized for delivering automation solutions that streamline all stages of the mortgage banking process

Reno, Nevada, March 1, 2017 – PCLender, a leading loan origination system (LOS) provider, announces that it has been named to HousingWire's HW TECH100™ list of the housing economy's most innovative technology companies.

Four years ago, HousingWire created the Tech100 to recognize the increasingly important role of technology companies serving the mortgage space. Every year has seen an increase not only in the number of companies who apply for the award, but also the breadth of their innovations.

“We are honored to be named to the HW Tech100 list,” said Lionel Urban, CEO of PCLender. “Our next generation software is revolutionary. PCLender’s loan origination and mortgage loan application software product suites capture all consumer entry points, simplifying the process for consumers, not just lenders.”

PCLender was recognized for its scalable, enterprise-class system, which provides automation solutions to streamline all stages of the mortgage banking process, including loan origination, application processing, approval, closing, and delivery of loans to the secondary market for any lender.

“The companies that make up the 2017 HW TECH100™ are the cream of the crop of the entire housing industry, from real estate to mortgage lending, servicing, and investment,” said HousingWire Senior Financial Reporter Ben Lane. “These companies aren’t just taking part in the housing industry’s technological revolution; they’re leading it.”
